Police Commissioners' Report.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT, }
FEBRUARY 15, 1902. }

The Board of Police Commissioners of Exeter herewith submits its seventh annual report. The organization of the Board was effected in March by the election of George A. Wentworth, Chairman, and Albion Burbank, Clerk.

On the first Tuesday evening of each month the Board has been in session at Police Headquarters, to listen to complaints and to transact any business pertaining to the Department.

During the year some repairs have been made on the police office, rendering it more convenient and comfortable.

The number of those unfortunates, called tramps, who have applied at the Police Station for lodgings has been considerably smaller than in past years.

The general order and quiet that has characterized the town for several years has continued.

Much credit is due to the police officers for the conscientious and efficient manner in which they have discharged their duties.

Orders upon the Town Treasurer to the amount of $2,707 have been drawn to defray the necessary expenses.

A detailed account of the number of arrests and their causes may be found in the following report of the Chief of Police.

Remarks.

DEPARTMENT.—The discipline of the department at the present time is of the best, the men ever ready and alert to perform all the duties required of them, and I take this opportunity to express my appreciation of their kind assistance. Chief Gooch and his officers have kindly volunteered their services, and hereafter all fires of any importance will be roped in—a step in the right direction.

HOUSES.—The steamer house is in good condition, with the exception of the stable, which is in poor repair. Something must be done to it in the near future, as it is not large enough and in poor shape. Hose house No. 1 is in good order, with the exception of paint. Hose houses Nos. 1 and 3 have not been painted, I have been informed, since they were built. Hose No. 2 is in first-class order. Hose No. 3 is crippled for room, no place for wood or coal except on floor, which doesn't look ship-shape. It is a very poorly planned house. Hook and Ladder room is in good repair, with the exception of a little paint and paper.

APPARATUS.—The steamer is in first-class condition, with the exception of its wheels. They have been in constant use for 28 years, and are badly used up. The steamer weighs four tons, and in other places would be a three-horse hitch, but in order to overcome that, I would suggest to the next Board of Engineers, that they purchase a set of Archibald's fire wheels with ball bearings, which would lessen the draft by a third. As the steamer is worth $4,500, it isn't practical to run a risk of breaking down on account of worn-out wheels for the sake of about $200.

In compliance with the town's vote and the appropriation of $1,000 for the purchase of a new hook and ladder truck, the Board of Engineers asked for proposals, and three firms bid on the contract, which was awarded to C. N. Perkins & Co., Lawrence, Mass. The old truck, by the contract, went in as part pay, and, as a consequence, we have got a modern and up-to-date truck. It is built with running boards on sides for the men to ride on, so when they get to a fire they are not out of wind, but ready for business. It is a steel truck, well built and proportioned, and carries 287 feet of ladders, 2 chemicals, and, in fact, all the paraphernalia that goes to make a first-class truck. In my last report, I stated that I thought by being economical the Board of Engineers could purchase one hose wagon the coming year. The last year was an exceptionally good one, there being fewer fires than in any year I remember of since joining the department. It was a wet season throughout, and we had no forest fires, which was a great saving, and in that way, and by being economical in other ways, instead of one wagon, we purchased three, one for each hose company. We turned in the old reels for part pay, and realized the large sum of $100 for them. We thought, at first, this sum was not quite enough, and we were given the privilege of selling them and make what we could over $100. We tried several parties, but had to give it up, as the best offer we could get for one of them was $15, so that you can see in what condition they were. These hose wagons are built on modern plans with every convenience, and carry from 800 to 1,200 feet of hose, two chemicals, and all the tools that go to make a modern hose wagon.

I hope that the Board of Engineers in future years, and the citizens in general, will see that the fine fire apparatus that we now have be kept in perfect condition ; when anything is to be mended, mend it at once, varnish and paint when necessary, and don't let the old Exeter spirit prevail—don't care.

HOSE.—In regard to hose, I will have to say that there is not enough. We have about 5,300 feet, some first-class, and some fair. What we want is a double hitch—that is to say, if any of the apparatus goes to a fire and uses five or eight hundred feet of hose, they should have that amount of dry hose to put on wagon, and hang the wet hose in the tower to dry. I think the nicest way to do this is to purchase a little hose each year, and when we get the required amount, find the per cent. of loss each year, and buy that amount, and in that way there will always be enough, and the expense will be small. We turned over to Mr. Tilton for sewer purposes, 600 feet of condemned hose, fit for no other purpose.

FIRE ALARM.—The first of the year the fire alarm troubled us a good deal, and it will continue to trouble us until it is put in proper condition. The alarm was put in in 1890 through the efforts of Hose 1, by a subscription from among the citizens. They only had a small amount of money, and it was put up cheaply; in fact, any old way. From time to time since, something has been done to it, but not thoroughly. We have put in three miles of new wire this year, and divided the town into three circuits, with a switch-board in the steamer house, so that in case of trouble we can find out in just what part of the town it is in. There has been a number of bells and one and one-half dozen of batteries added to the open circuit. I would suggest that the next Board of Engineers put in three miles of new wire this year, and a little every year until completed. It would be impossible to get along without a fire alarm now, and let us have it in shape, as it does not cost so much to run it. One of the first questions of the underwriters is, have you a fire alarm? if so, what system and in what condition?

WIRING.—In all cases the top of any pole used for wiring in any town or city is reserved for the fire alarm. In Exeter this is different, and the reason is, I suppose, that we have never demanded it. There is a great increase of wiring every year in Exeter, and something in the future will have to be done regulating it. Some of the parties who have done wiring here this season have gone so far as to change the fire alarm from one arm of the pole to another without any consent. One case, that of Center street, we had just completed a new wire through the street, when we noticed a telephone gang changing our wire. We had quite an argument with the foreman, but it didn't seem to amount to much, as he claimed the poles, but calling on one of the Selectmen, and, with a little more argument, Mr. Telephone man concluded that the town was here first, and the fire alarm wire is still on top of the poles. I hope all the incoming Boards of Engineers will insist on their rights in this matter, as it is very important, as you can locate your wire at once. As it is now, we have hard work to find them in some parts of the town.

WATER WORKS.—During the winter we have had several frozen hydrants, and have been informed that they have been found before by other engineers. Superintendent Johnson seems to think that some one was tampering with them. That I don't think is so, and, even if so, the fire department can't help it, and as the town pays for a hydrant service, it should have it. At the fire of F. Ciocca, on Water street, a frozen hydrant delayed the firemen about five minutes, a costly delay, just in the bud of the fire. In a day or two after the same hydrant was frozen again, when he had a man thaw and pump it out, since which time it has been frozen several times. By orders, Superintendent Johnson dug this hydrant up and found that it leaked, and a new one was put in its place. It is just so with all the hydrants that were frozen; they simply leaked, they are getting old, will need more attention every year, and I hope they will get it. In order to have an efficient fire department, everything that goes with it must be equally efficient.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.—We have been bothered by the electric light wires considerably this year; in one case where the electric light wire fell on the fire alarm wire and burnt it clean out, and, as a consequence, we had to put in one-half mile of new wire. They have had lots of groundings in trees all over the town, and in some cases the flame has reached as high as two or three feet, thereby coming in contact with the fire alarm wire and injuring it considerably. Some of their poles look as if they might fall over at any minute. I think a little more care should be exercised on their part.

HORSES.—We had the misfortune to lose one of the Town's horses by sickness. Everything that was possible was done in trying to save him, but to no avail. The Selectmen have looked at several horses, but as yet have not found just what is wanted.

We were somewhat surprised to find that some of our citizens who discovered fire the last year didn't know how to pull in an alarm. We wish that every citizen would inspect the box nearest them, and if they don't quite understand its workings, call on any fireman, and he will gladly give the needed information. This is a duty that every citizen owes the town.

He, who rules, sounded the all-out, and took from us Brother Charles E. Currier, engineer of Steamer 1. Charles was a true and faithful man, and took great interest in his work. One of his characteristics was to look over the 'chine, as he called her, every night before retiring, and upon being asked how she was, he would invariably reply, "I will risk her till morning." James I. Watson was appointed engineer in the place thus made vacant.

In conclusion, I extend my thanks to the Board of Selectmen for their confidence and wise counsel; to the Assistant Engineers, for their harmony and support; to Supt. French of the fire alarm, for his willing information; to Chief Gooch and his officers for their promptness and aid rendered, and I wish to thank, for the department, the citizens for their hearty support. There is a good deal of care and anxiety attached to the office of Chief Engineer, but the pleasant things are over plus, and I am thankful that I have been the servant of one of the best and bravest set of men—the firemen.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM FLANIGAN, Chief Engineer.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT.

HONORABLE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF ROBINSON SEMINARY :

Permit me to submit to you the following brief report of the condition and progress of the Robinson Seminary for the year past :

• ATTENDANCE.—At the opening of the school year in September, 1900, there was a noticeable increase in the number of pupils in the academic and normal departments. With the opening of the present school year in September, 1901, this increase was considerably marked. The total number of pupils thus far for the school year is 249, divided as follows: Normal class, 12; Senior class, 22; Academic department, exclusive of the Senior class, 78; Preparatory department, 137.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL LAW.—The law which was passed at the last session of the Legislature of New Hampshire, requiring towns which do not support a High school to be responsible for the tuition of pupils desiring a High school education, is one of the most important school enactments of recent years, and it cannot fail to be of great advantage to the interests of education in the state. The tendency will be to improve the facilities of teaching in the High schools, to increase the teaching force, and to bring the courses of study up to a broader and higher standard.

The law is proving a decided advantage to the Seminary also. The Seminary's course was found to meet all the requirements of the law without any modifications and our school was promptly placed by the State Superintendent of Education on the list of schools for the education of non resident pupils, and last September a large number of girls came to take advantage of the law's provisions and that number will doubtless increase rapidly from year to year.

It is always a desirable class of pupils who come to us from the smaller towns, filled with a genuine desire for an education, and it will always be advantageous to the quality of the scholarship of the Seminary to welcome such a class to our courses. The law requires that pupils shall pursue a regular course in order to have their tuitions paid by the town in which they reside, and this will have a tendency to lessen the number of pupils in our school who desire to pursue a partial or irregular course. While we are always glad to receive special students, it is desirable to have as large a number as possible who are pursuing a regular course.

The law also provides that pupils shall be examined for admission to the school which they desire to attend, and this requirement has a stimulating effect upon grammar schools that are preparing girls for admission to the Seminary.

DEPARTMENT OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.—I consider that we are very fortunate to be able to retain the services of so skilful and now so noted a teacher as Miss Anna Barrows. Our domestic science department is one of the most popular and profitable ones in our school, and I am very grateful that you felt able to grant my petition for a lengthening of the former course. We shall this year give our pupils five more lessons in domestic science than we have ever been able to give before, and it is planned that two of these lessons shall be lectures by known experts upon the subjects of "Cleaning" and "House Sanitation." At the close of the course it is our intention to give a practical demonstration of the ability of the pupils to prepare tasteful and inexpensive dishes for a dinner or lunch.

CHANGES IN THE CORPS OF TEACHERS.—The opening of the present school year was marked by some changes in our teaching force. Miss Downes, who had been granted a year's leave of absence, returned to us invigorated in body and inspired with the enthusiasm of foreign travel.

The requirements of the increased number of pupils and the greater demands upon the teaching force from the large number of girls preparing for college made it very necessary that the number of teachers in the academic department should be increased, and so Miss Goddard, who had most acceptably served the school in the previous year, was offered, and accepted a permanent place in our corps of teachers. Her work this year is largely science, teaching Chemistry and Physics, and to that work she adds one class in Greek.

Miss Louise Moulton, a graduate of Tabor College, and a special student under Dr. Sargent, of Cambridge, was invited to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Miss Adelaide Johnson. Miss Moulton is at present teaching English and Physiology in the preparatory department and Physical Culture and Elocution throughout the school. It is a difficult position, bringing the teacher personally into relationship with all the pupils and teachers of the school, and a position that requires great tact and patience, and these requirements, Miss Moulton, by her winning ways and kindly nature, succeeds in meeting in a most satisfactory manner.

I have received sums from the Treasurer on account of that fund as follows, and have made the following expenditures :

Received from A. N. Dow,	$80 00
Paid Houghton, Mifflin & Co.,	$2 25
DeWolf, Fiske & Co.,	7 35

Last Autumn I had an opportunity at special advantage to purchase Appleton's Universal Cyclopedia and Atlas, the payment for which will prevent the purchase of any other reference books for the rest of the year ; but it seemed to me that the school specially needed that work and that it was the design of the donor that books for reference purposes should be purchased as far as possible.

CHANGE IN COMMENCEMENT PROGRAMME.—In February, the senior class petitioned your board for permission to make some changes in the commencement programme. The number who will graduate from the present senior class is large, and the pupils felt that it would be tedious to listen to the long programme of essays which would be necessary if each graduate took part. I have always felt that, while our graduating exercises have been attended by enthusiastic audiences, the exercises could be made more interesting by making them more brief, and so I felt that a decided benefit to the school was conferred when permission was granted by the Board of Trustees for five or six special parts in place of the long programme of former years. This may not be the best programme yet attainable, but improvements can be made in the future as we see what will be for the best interests of the school, and most acceptable to the friends of the graduates.

THE MERRILL TABLET.—The Seminary is again, as it has been many times in the past, indebted to our generous friend, Dr. Abner L. Merrill, of Boston, who last autumn placed upon the front wall of the school building a massive slate tablet with the following words cut in gold letters :

ROBINSON FEMALE SEMINARY

FOUNDED 1867

THIS BUILDING ERECTED IN 1869

STATUS OF THE SCHOOL.—In conclusion it gives me a great deal of pleasure to say that the condition of our school was never more prosperous than at present. Interest and confidence in the Robinson Seminary gain steadily from year to year. The circle of its influence and usefulness is enlarging annually. Families in a large area of the state who have children to train up are looking to our school as a good place in which to educate their daughters. Our teachers are faithful, our graduates are loyal to our school and become each year more interested in its progress and in its prosperity.

 News-Letter for 1901, Mr. J. Templeton.
 Mr. Perry's library, 1,500 volumes.

The Committee takes this opportunity of acknowledging the receipt of these gifts and the generosity of the givers.

The number of volumes now in the Library, exclusive of the Perry collection, is 12,440.

By the death of two of the Library Committee during the past year, Mr. E. H. Gilman and Mr. J. T. Perry, the library has sustained a great loss. The former, as President of the State Board of Library Commissioners, was for several years in a position to render our Library much aid. The latter, as Chairman of our Local Committee, by his superior knowledge of books, and his unfailing efforts for the best interests of the Library, was of invaluable service to the Committee and the Librarians.

To the Librarian and her assistants, much credit is due for the faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged their duties.

Their work requires intellectual ability, quick response to the wants of patrons, and untiring patience; all of which they have manifested to the satisfaction of the committee, and we have reason to believe to the general acceptance of the public.

There is no doubt that the Library is growing in favor with our citizens from year to year. Such an institution of education must exert a vast intellectual and moral influence on the community.

Our people are appreciating more fully than ever the more valuable features of the Library. The number of reference books—Dictionaries, Gazetteers, Cyclopædias, Concordances and the like, is constantly increasing, as is also the number of those who resort to the pleasant rooms where these valuable aids to knowledge may be found.

On the shelves are books that will assist those engaged in the practical affairs of life, books of interest to mechanics, builders, masons, farmers, gardeners and plumbers.

Those who desire to find works on gunning, fishing, boating, and on golf, football and other popular games, will not resort to the Library in vain.

Added recently to the collection, are works that would interest the lover of the "fine arts," and scientific treatises of the best and latest authority are not lacking among the late additions.

In its educational work the Library is of inestimable value to the pupils of our public and private schools.

The system of issuing teachers' cards, by means of which books may be taken from the Library to supplement the text books, is of great advantage to the pupils.

In this way the Library and the school work together in the education of the young people of all ages, from the kindergarten to the secondary schools.

If the Committee have not in all cases responded to the call for books recommended by patrons of the Library, it must be remembered that with the limited amount of money at their disposal, discrimination must be made in favor of the best books.

There are many tastes in the community, and these should be consulted so far as is consistent with the amount of the funds and the general purpose of the Library.

Even works of high moral and intellectual excellence must sometimes be rejected on account of the high price, and the limited demand that such books would naturally have. Occasionally there has been a call for novels of somewhat doubtful moral tone. These the Committee have not purchased, as they feel that they are not justified in giving out to the public books of a questionable character, when there are so many of undoubted excellence from which to make selections.

As in many other matters pertaining to the public welfare, the rule, "The greatest good of the greatest number" is applicable to the purchase of books for the Library.

In view of the advantages that the Library offers, it is no wonder that it is constantly growing in favor with our citizens.

Many towns have recently been the recipients of money, to be used for the erection of buildings for library purposes.

If it is a noble act to give of one's wealth to found a public library, it is equally so to establish a fund for its continued support.

While our citizens evidently take pride in a building erected by appropriation made from their own earnings, they would undoubtedly welcome funds to be appropriated for the equipment of such a building.

As the Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of our Library approaches, it is to be hoped that some of the prosperous and charitably inclined sons and daughters of Exeter will generously remember this institution, which is so important a factor in our educational life. Some one has truly said : The town and village libraries that are found everywhere in New England are, to a large extent, the explanation of that sturdy and strong character that still is, as in the days of yore, the backbone of our national life.
